

Open Research Online

The Open University's repository of research publications and other research outputs

Building a community of writers in a university

Other

How to cite:

Saunders, Claire (2020). Building a community of writers in a university. Postgraduate Research Poster Competition, The Open University.

For guidance on citations see FAQs.

© [not recorded]

<https://creativecommons.org/licenses/by-nc-nd/4.0/>

Version: Poster

Copyright and Moral Rights for the articles on this site are retained by the individual authors and/or other copyright owners. For more information on Open Research Online's data policy on reuse of materials please consult the policies page.

oro.open.ac.uk

Building a community of writers in a university

Take one university...

- 🕒 20 hours teaching per week
- 📌 High number of 'second-career' academics
- 🔗 Focus on applied courses
- ❤️ Key priority: improved position in REF

License: CC0

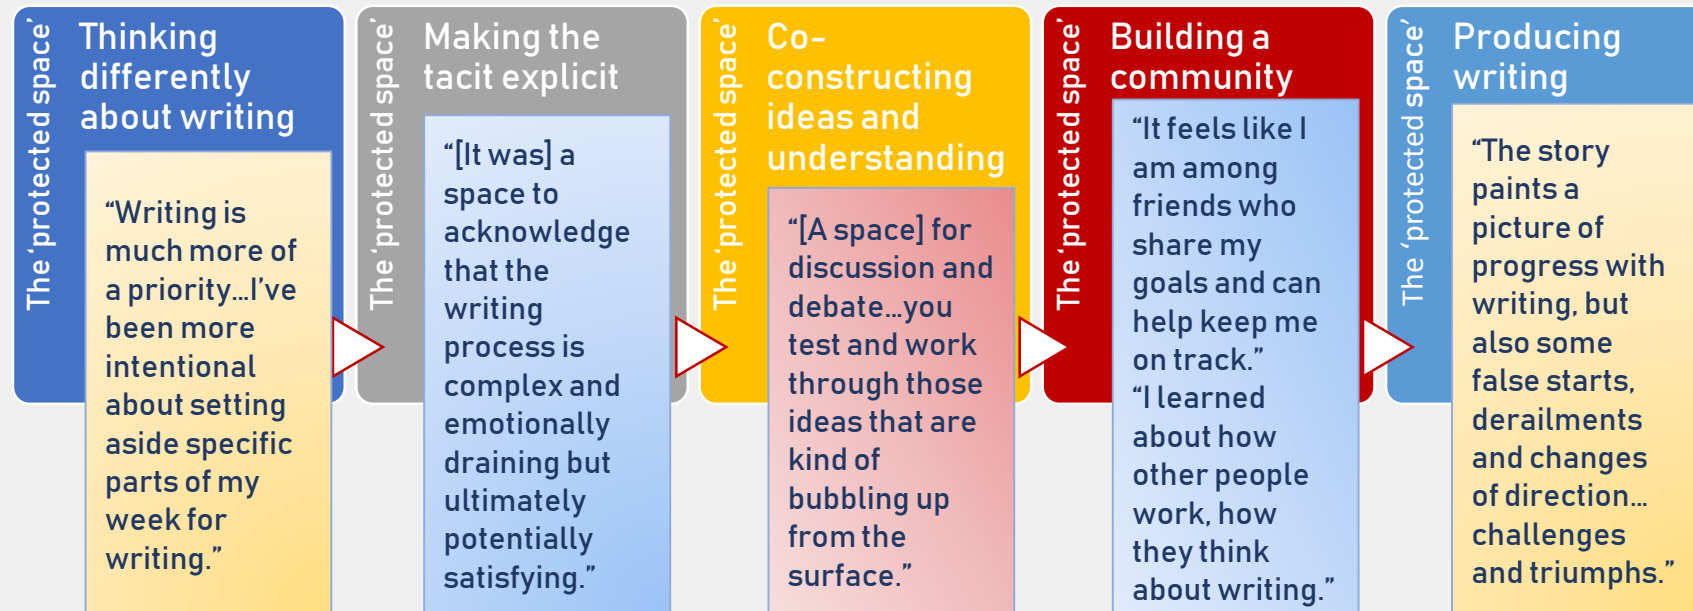

...12 academics...

...one writing group

What is the role of a writing community in developing the writing practices of academics?

An ethnographic study: telling their stories

The end of a chapter

- Writing spaces need to be:
- About process before productivity
 - Both social and individual
 - Both visible and protected

Participants developed a more coherent sense of their wider academic identity and began to see writing as a legitimate and valuable activity.

The interplay between individual and institutional is key: the University needs to clearly articulate the nature and purpose of writing within the institution.